PLANTING TREES TO GUARD FROM WIND; 10 RULES

WASHINGTON, July 18.—(Special.)

The forest service has devised a decalogue for the use of farmers in the plains regions. These ten commandments are to be displayed as part of the exhibit which the forest service is preparing for an exposition to be held during October at Tulsa, Oklahoma, in connection with the eighth international dry farming congress. The commandments for owners of windbreaks are as follows:

I. Place the windbreak at right angles to the direction of injurious prevailing winds.

II. Devote from one-eighth to one-fifth of the farm to timber. Its protective value more than pays for the ground it occupies, to say nothing of the timber yield.

III. Plant only species suited to windbreak use, to the region and to the locality.

IV. Plant rapid growers for quick results; but underplant with slower growing species, which are usually longer lived and more valuable.

V. Supplement a deciduous windbreak with evergreens to afford protection in winter.

VI. Separate trees by the spacing proper to the species used. The trees should be close enough to produce a dense windbreak and to yield good poles, but should not be so crowded as to produce spindling growth.

VII. Make the windbreak thick from the bottom up, especially on the side toward the wind. This may be done by using species which branch near the ground, by planting outside rows of low-growing trees, by encouraging natural reproduction, and by underplanting.

VIII. Cultivate the plantation thoroughly while it is young.

IX. Do not allow excessive grazing where reproduction is desired.

X. Do not thin your woodlot too heavily or take out the best trees for minor uses. Remember that a timber tract should be improved by use and that each clearing should leave it in better condition than before.

Other exhibits will show the proper locations for windbreaks, suitable species for planting, and the directions of harmful prevailing winds in various regions.

BIDS LET FOR NEW BUILDING

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Ore., July 18.—At the annual meeting of the board of regents of the Oregon Agricultural College to be held in Corvallis Saturday, July 19, bids will be opened and the contracts let for a home economics building and a men's gymnasium, in addition to the regular business of the session. This meet of the board will be the occasion of the first official visit of Supt. J. A. Churchill to the college.

FRIED CHICKEN ENDS NEGRO'S HUNGER STRIKE

ELIZABETH, N. J., July 18.—The manner in which Warden Charles W. Dodd of the county jail broke up a hunger strike may set a useful example he thinks, to the keepers of English prisons who become custodians of suffragettes. William Turner, a negro incarcerated last Sunday, sought to gain his liberty by refusing to eat. The negro had been 48 hours without food when Warden Dodd appeared at the door of his cell with a steaming plate of fried chicken and a large portion of a watermelon. One sniff and the negro's hunger strike was over.

To Build Bungalow.

G. I. LaDow has taken out a permit to build a one-story bungalow on his vacant lot on west Court street. The house will cost approximately $1500.

Installs Lens Grinding Apparatus.

William Hanson, the jeweler, has installed a lens grinding machine in his optical department and today has the apparatus on display in his windows.

Sues on Note.

Eric Johnson has started suit against Lee Thorn for the collection of $300 and interest alleged to be due on a promissory note. He asks for $30 attorney fees in addition. J. B. Perry is his attorney.

Coach and Athlete Here.

Dr. E. J. Stewart, football coach at the Oregon Agricultural college, was in the city yesterday. He was accompanied by Leslie Finch, the star Baker high school athlete, who will work in Corvallis during the summer and enter the college in the fall.

Getting Stationary Ready.

William Gillette of this city is getting his steam engine and separator in readiness for the opening of harvest. He had steam up today and will leave in a few days with his crew to thresh the grain he has contracted.

Largest Pension Yet.

The largest pension yet granted under the new widow's pension law was ordered yesterday by Judge Maloney. Mrs. Ida Stewart of Albee, the mother of seven children, the oldest of which is but 14, is the applicant and she will receive $55 monthly.

Manufacturer Coming.

T. S. Mann, president of the Oregon Manufacturers' association, is to arrive here tomorrow, according to information received by President Tallman of the Commercial club. It is understood that the official wishes to meet local manufacturers while here.

The Mayor Was Ill.

Mayor W. F. Matlock was taken ill suddenly on West Court street yesterday afternoon while in front of the Oregon Motor Garage. He was first seized with a stomach attack which was followed by a chill and a fever. After being assisted to his apartment the mayor suffered severely for several hours but was fully recovered this morning and has been about upon the streets as usual today.

Rader's Check Arrives.

Vice-president R. W. Rader of the Pendleton ball club this morning received from C. A. Comiskey, president of the Chicago American league club, a check for $750, that being the consideration involved in the purchase of Donald Rader, the Buckaroo infielder. Rader secures $250 of that sum. He will finish the week with Pendleton before entraining to join the White Sox.

City Lots Sold.

Miss Sarah Cunningham of Pasco has sold to Joseph and Elizabeth Fiedler lot 10, block 18, Arnold and Raley's addition to Pendleton. The lot is located on Cosbie street between Court and Alta and brought $900. E. T. Wade and wife have sold lot 1, block 3 of Raley's addition to T. D. Matthews for $215. The lot is on the corner of Logan and Mark street. J. M. Klein and wife of La Grande have sold to J. F. Snider of Weston for $150, lot 8, block 3 of the original town of Weston.

Kids Play on R. R. Track.

Agent T. F. O'Brien is fearing for the safety of several children who persist in playing in a pile of sand near the track which runs to the Byers mill. Neither they nor their parents, he says, heed requests to keep away and he has asked the officers to assist him. Realizing that a sandpile has a natural affinity for a "kid" Judge Thomas Fitz Gerald suggests as the best solution that the railroad company or some other benevolent agency purchase a load of sand and dump it in the back yard of the children's home.

No Luck for Luck; Loses Race.

John Luck, proprietor of the O. K. Feedyard in this city, is beginning to think that his name is a misnomer for he is certainly a luckless individual in his horse racing. He has a fast little bay mare but last evening it met its match in a sorrel, owned by a transient who was passing through. The race was run on the reservation near the John Crow place and was witnessed by a large number of Pendleton people. The race was for three hundred yards and the stranger's horse won by a good length. It is reported that a good deal of money was wagered on the outcome.

Party for Colored People.

In honor of Mrs. Mary Wilson on the eve of her departure for Tacoma to join her husband, the colored people of Pendleton surprised her last Monday evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Williams, on Railroad street. The hours of the evening were spent in singing and dancing. Those present for the occasion were Mrs. C. Teal, Mrs. A. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. D. Rellie, Mr. and Mrs. J. Evans, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hobson, Mr. and Mrs. Miles, Mrs. W. Crawford, Misses M. Girle, D. Wright, R. Tebow of Baker, and N. Humphrey of Walla Walla, and the Messrs. Allen, E. Wright, B. Hickman, C. Jones, J. Cunningham, L. Sharp, W. Warren and Dick Thomas. Mrs. Wilson was accompanied by her mother on her trip to Tacoma.

COBB'S TALK WORRIED HIM

"Clarence" Cowled Bitter at Young Twirled and Bothered Him Until He Drew a Base on Balls. Tyron Cobb had about as much to do with the winning of that morning game on Memorial day at Chicago as any man on the team, although he did not get a base hit or score a run.

DANIEL C. ROOPER

First Assistant Postmaster General

says a Detroit expert. Cobb came up for the first time in the second inning. He took one look at Pitcher Clarence Smith, who was starting his first game of the season.

"So your name is Clarence, eh?" retorted Ty, and there was a world of scorn in his tone.

"And where did you come from, Wellesley or Vassar?" continued Cobb.

"Ball one!" howled the umpire, and it was very evident that Smith was neither calm nor collected.

"Clarence?" continued Cobb. "My what a pretty name? And how is your brother, Reginald?"

"Ball two!" howled Hildebrand.

It was now certain that Smith didn't know where he was. But Cobb was merciless. He joked Smith about his name until the youngster lost all semblance of control. He didn't get one ball near the plate, and Cobb walked. He just talked and scared that youngster out of a pass. Nor did he cease when he reached first. He dashed off the bag and then back.

He continued to twist Smith until he had Schalk leaping in every direction trying to grab the wild pitches. When Smith came to he had three balls and two strikes on Veatch. Then Smith, as he prefers to be called, put one square over. Veatch met it fair. John Collins heeled it to deep center, the batter was credited with a hit. Cobb stopped when he reached third and Smith was told that it was time for him to quit.

Two runs followed, but it was Cobb who got the "goat" of the young pitcher who put the runners on the sacks.

Stabs Policeman in Wrist.

As Patrolman Larry Evans was taking Dr. Equi from the police station to remove her to the county jail late last night she drew a hat pin from her hat and stabbed him in the wrist. In view of Dr. Equi's previous threat that she would prepare a virus in which she would dip a pin, a stab from which would cause a lingering death, Patrolman Evans at once had the wound cauterized.

COMMISSION CHARTER TO BE DRAFTED assembled at the city hall at 8 o'clock last evening and nearly half of those present were ladies, thus showing the strong interest the women take in the movement.

J. V. Tallman, president of the Commercial club, called the meeting to order and immediately invited Judge S. A. Lowell to take the chair, while James Johns, Jr., was made secretary. In a brief talk Judge Lowell outlined the purpose of the meeting and the progress of the move, thus far. He suggested that a committee of 15 be named to draft a commission plan charter and a few minutes later the suggestion was acted upon when on motion of E. B. Aldrich the chairman was authorized to appoint a committee of 15 with himself as chairman. The judge announced he would make his committee selections today and completed the task this forenoon. He selected 15 members aside from himself but will serve as chairman.

After the motion of the committee of 15 had been adopted, J. V. Tallman moved that the various ladies organizations of the city be invited to name delegates to confer with the committee and the suggestion was adopted.

Owing to the fact there was little business to be transacted last evening the actual business meeting was brief and the remainder of the session was devoted to a general discussion of the subject and many questions were asked by parties present. Col. Raley and Judge Lowell were the principal speakers. The colonel spoke generally in favor of commission rule and also urged that under the new charter there be no property qualification required of an office holder. He held such a requirement to be unnecessary since the people are capable of selecting the officials they wish and will not choose a man of whom they disapprove.

Dr. I. U. Temple suggested that it might be feasible to have the subject of changing the street names voted on at the proposed special election. However, he said he did not wish to press the point if there could be any doubt of such action interfering in any way with the commission government movement.
